As soon as I met my first Leonberger I fell in love with the breed.

It took some years but I finally got my first one in 2001 from Woscany. And, ofcourse, a second one followed, also a Woscany girl, Nalle. With her I started my life in the dogshow world.

As I wanted to breed with her, and I'm always eager to learn, the next step was starting my canine education.

I had 5 litters, three from Nalle and two from her daughter, and in 2014 I became a judge for Leonberger.

Now I am a judge for 8 different breeds. I've been judging mainly Leonberger specialties all over Europe and the USA.

I have taught canine education at different levels and worked for the Dutch kennel club developing new teaching material.

In the USA and France I gave lectures about the balance in Leonberger, and in the winter of 2025 Poland will follow.

In 2021 I moved to France and since 2024 I have been a French judge.
